			International Day of Friendship

Disability Pride Month is a worldwide time to celebrate the diversity of the disability community and to recognize the accomplishments of people with disabilities.

International Friendship Day was proclaimed in 2011 by the UN General Assembly with the idea that friendship between peoples, countries, cultures, and individuals can inspire peace efforts and build bridges between communities. Here are some ideas for ways to celebrate and honor this day:

1. Foster a culture of peace through education: Donate a book about peace, inclusion, or kindness to a local library or school.
2. Promote sustainable economic and social development: Donate clothing or food to a local shelter or food bank.
3. Promote respect for all human rights: Stand up and speak out if you hear someone being bullied or stereotyped.
4. Ensure equality between women and men: Amplify women's voices—give credit and speak up if women are interrupted
